2006 LEGISLATIVE SURVEY RESULTS

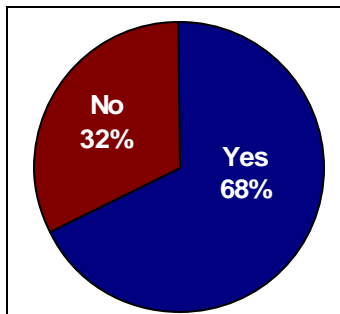

1. Should local governments be able to use eminent domain (the forced selling of private property) when the purpose of acquiring the property is for economic development?

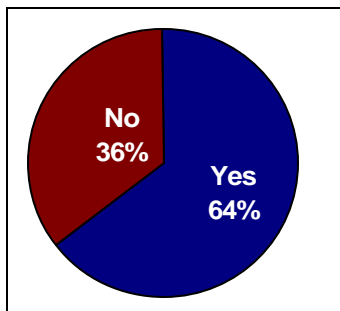

2. Should the state provide automatic tax incentives to companies, like Delphi, that invest dollars in Indiana and/or create more jobs for Hoosiers?

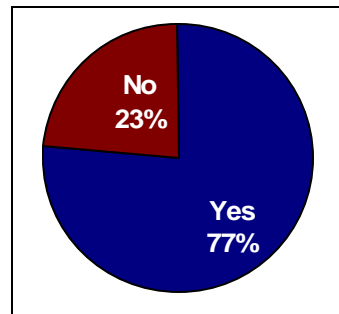

3. Should the state mandate nutritional guidelines for food offered in school cafeterias and vending machines?

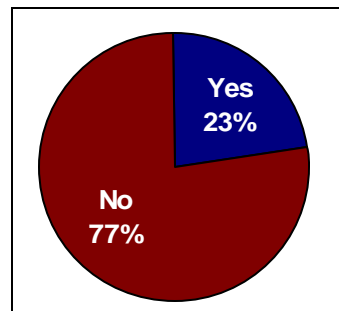

4. If E85 fuel (85 percent ethanol) was sold in your town, would you consider purchasing a flex-fuel vehicle that was made to use this special type of fuel?

5. Legislation has been authored in the past that would legalize electronic gambling devices (i.e. cherry masters or video poker) but would strictly limit their use to users 21 years of age or older, and require that these devices be placed only in establishments that have obtained a liquor license, like restaurants or taverns. Would you favor legalizing these electronic gambling devices if it generates significant tax revenue and these restrictions were mandated by law?

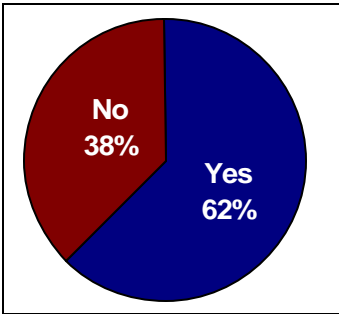

6. Should local elected officials be required to approve any future property tax increases initiated by appointed taxing entities such as airport authorities and libraries?

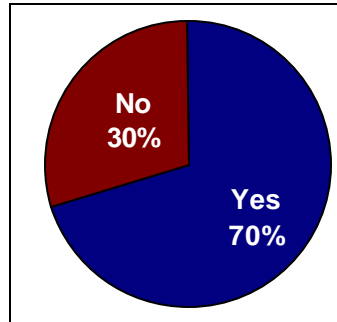

7. Should same-sex couples be allowed to adopt children?

8. If the state requires mandatory sentencing for child sex offenders, would you be willing to pay a 0.03 percent sales tax increase to build additional prisons?

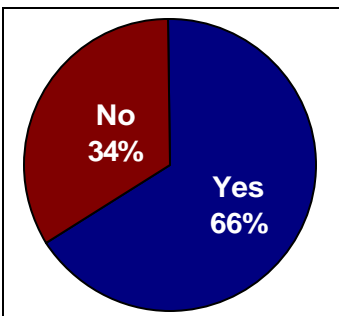

11. Would you support increasing Indiana's driving age from 16 to 17?

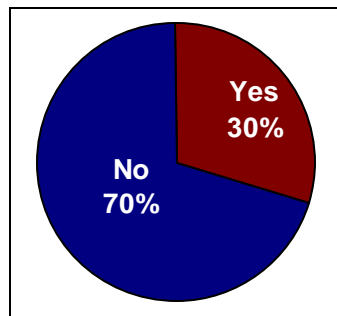

9. Would you support state tax credits for parents who send their children to non-public schools?

12. Would you support legislation directing the Department of Education and the Department of Health to establish a fetal development curriculum for ninth grade health classes?

10. Do you favor protection of human embryos by requiring any transfer of those embryos to be done so only via current Indiana adoption laws?

13. Would you support a $0.03 per gallon gas tax to fund and complete construction by 2015 on the U.S. 31 corridor project?
